Northerly wind came up quite strongly so was a challenging paddle back carrying the rubbish.	Kilmeny > Newsletter

Any other business
Secretary understudy.	Start talking to people.
Tasman Bay Guardians	Kilmeny attended the two presentations: Pete Lawless, Top of the South Biosecurity and Stu Robertson, owner of Tasman Bay Eco Tours. Pete Lawless talking about biosecurity: Hull fouling and ballast is OK in general. 500 boats, 500 structures checked every year, starting 16 Dec for summer. Getting worse in Nelson, Tasman. Probably due to lack of facilities for hardstand. Fan worm - can't enter Marlborough if fouling is there. Can't just get rid of them, because they can release spores. NCC plan - every 6 months for structures. Cawthron is investigating how to keep pontoons clean. Stu Robertson talking about Tasman Bay Guardians. Lots of birdsong and terrestrial efforts. 2019 looking at the marine environment. Issues they are most concerned about 1. Sediment, runoff - Water clarity hasn't recovered after Gita... 2. Damage to benthic habitats 3. Reduced biodiversity due to over exploitation. 4. Protection of taonga species – download Hector's dolphins sightings app if you're interested 5. Protection of fresh water eco systems 6. Marine clean-ups
Aunties request	Can they use logo on their personal shirts? Char to check her notes, because we said no to a crew in the past. Char to reply no. Keep logo for club apparel.
Unpaid members?	Member of Penny's crew that hasn't paid. Julie is affiliated through Onetahua, asking if she can have a reduced fee. Answer is they have to be a paid member.
Uniforms	Examples done by probrands. Char brought in examples. Get price for all three – fleece, subliminated and windproof/raincoat.

Flares	John to talk to NMIT about another date.
Towing	Request to approve payment for towing to Lake Rotoiti. Agreed that club would pay for this, not reimbursed by attendees. Robyn make a motion that we pay Kereama $236.21. Kilmeny 2 nd .. Towing to Waka Te Tasman $200 cost of trailer, split by all attendees.
